In order to ensure that students are prepared for the challenges of high school and beyond, it is important to start building these skills at a young age. This can be achieved through the implementation of programs that encourage students to take ownership of their learning and to develop a strong work ethic.

One such program is the "Teaching for Mastery" initiative, which aims to help students develop the skills they need to succeed in school and beyond. By focusing on high-quality instruction and providing students with the resources they need to learn, this program helps to ensure that students are well-prepared for the demands of the 21st century.

Overall, the success of these initiatives depends on the active participation of students, parents, and educators alike. With a commitment to excellence and a dedication to providing the best possible education for all students, we can help ensure that every student has the opportunity to reach their full potential.
