Re: FOI request consultation process, decision on FOI 2017 068

Dear Deirdre

I refer to the Freedom of Information Act 2014 and my correspondence to you of 21 February 2017 on the above FOI request.

I have to inform you that I have now written to the third party on the 3rd April, 2017 to inform them of their rights of Review under the FOI Act which allows them to appeal to the Office of Information Commissioner (OIC) against the Department's decision to release records in relation to your request.

If the third party wishes to appeal this decision they must do so not later than 2 weeks from the date of notification which was the 3rd April. While the appeal is pending, the records identified will not be disclosed.

If they decide not to appeal within those 2 weeks then the records can be released to you.

You have also a right of Review and you may also appeal this decision by writing to the Information Commissioner at 18 Lower Leeson Street, Dublin 2, D02 HE97. There is a fee of €50 in respect of such an appeal. If you wish to appeal, you must do so not later than 2 weeks from the date of this notification where a day is defined as a working day excluding, the weekend and public holidays. Should you write to the Information Commissioner making an appeal, please either refer to this letter or enclose a copy.

If an appeal is made by you, the Information Commissioner will fully investigate and consider the matter and issue a fresh decision.

If you decide to submit and appeal to the Information Commissioner I would appreciate if you could copy me on this so that I am aware that you have submitted this.

Should you wish to discuss the above, please contact me at 01 604 1643 or at my email address joancollier@dttas.ie

Yours sincerely,
